

Field Manual
No. 90-3
Fleet Marine
Force Manual
No. 7-27

Headquarters
Department of the Army
The Marine Corps
Washington, DC, 24 August 1993

DESERT OPERATIONS

TABLE OF CONTENTS

	Page
Preface	iii
Introduction	v
Chapter 1 The Environment and Its Effects on Personnel and Equipment	1-1
Section I. The Environment	1-1
Section II. Environmental Effects on Personnel ...	1-17
Section III. Environmental Effects on Equipment ..	1-30
Chapter 2 Preparations For Desert Operations ...	2-1
Section I. Factors to be Considered for Desert Operations	2-1
Section II. Individual Training	2-2
Section III. Unit Training	2-13
Chapter 3 Operations In Desert Conditions	3-1
Section I. How The Desert Environment Affects Tactical Operations	3-1
Section II. Offensive Operations	3-23
Section III. Defensive Operations	3-27

Distribution Restriction: Approved for public release; distribution is unlimited.

* This publication supersedes FM 90-3, 19 August 1977.
U.S. Marine Corps: PCN 139 000670 00

	Page
Chapter 4 Combat Service Support	4-1
Section I. Base Development Plan	4-2
Section II. Theater Support	4-3
Section III. Corps Support Command	4-3
Section IV. Division Support Command	4-6
Section V. Support Operations	4-7
Section VI. Security of Supply Routes	4-9
Section VII. Supply	4-9
Section VIII. Maintenance	4-12
Section IX. Personnel Support	4-13
Section X. Health Services	4-14
Section XI. Naval and Air Force Assistance	4-15
Section XII. Other Combat Service Support Issues	4-15
Appendix A Desert Countries of the World	A-1
Appendix B Employment of Aircraft in Desert Operations	B-1
Appendix C Techniques for Operating Equipment in the Desert	C-1
Appendix D Effects of the Environment on Nuclear, Biological, and Chemical Weapons	D-1
Appendix E Desert Concealment and Camouflage	E-1
Appendix F Operations in Mountains	F-1
Appendix G Water Usage in Desert Operations	G-1
Appendix H Fratricide Reduction	H-1
Glossary	Glossary-1
References	References-1
